

Ralph Ankri is Program Manager in Orange Labs Working for an Innovating Collaborative program for Emerging Countries since March 2007. Specialized in Emerging Countries area he worked during seven years (2000- 2007) in Sofrecom, a France Telecom - Orange Group company, leader in telecommunications consultant and services provider. He provides expertise on fast-growing markets worldwide as Consultant Senior –Data & Multimedia Networks and participated in several missions in different countries (Senegal, Mali, Burkina Faso, Equatorial guinea, Vietnam...) he Performed the market studies for the clients: Discovery, Exploration, Data collection, Analysis and Planning, Modular Design, Implementation and Logistics, Acceptance Testing, Performance Tuning and project, Training, Network Management and Maintenance.
Ralph Ankri is a graduate from Telecom Paris Tech.