

Mr. Diego Filmus is the International Cooperation Specialist at the Argentina office of the Organization of Ibero-American States for Education, Science, and Culture (OEI). For the past 9 years he has had various roles at the OEI, from researching innovative education finance mechanisms to managing a three-year public television production for early childhood education. Today he also works on expanding the international partnerships of the newly consolidated Ibero-American Institute for ICT and Education, also located in Buenos Aires.

Mr. Filmus received his MA in Political Science at the University of York, and his BA in Political Science at Wilfrid Laurier University, both in Canada. He previously worked at the Arias Foundation for Peace and Human Progress in Costa Rica and at the Center for Research on Latin America and the Caribbean at York University.